MRS. ASQUITH WINS SUIT CHARGING LIBEL

London "Globe" Apologizes, Saying Publication of Articles was Due to "Disorganization."

LONDON, Dec. 21.—In Chancery Court today Mrs. Herbert H. Asquith, wife of the Premier, was granted an injunction against the "Globe," restraining that newspaper from publishing articles which she alleged were libelous. At the hearing last week counsel for Mrs. Asquith said she had been accused by the "Globe" of disloyalty and of association with German prisoners, and had been described as a traitor and a disgrace to her sex. Counsel for the "Globe" expressed regret and apologized in behalf of the publishers, attributing the publication of the letters to disorganization, resulting from the recent suspension of the newspaper by the Government, and the Court granted the injunction.

FIVE ORPHANS NEAR DEATH FROM POISONED FOOD

Found Huddled Together in Bare Room With Pet Dog Dying at Their Feet.

Five orphan children, struggling to care for themselves since the death of their mother two weeks ago, were taken from two almost unfurnished rooms in the rear of No. 285 Grand Street, Williamsburg, this morning to the Williamsburg Hospital, suffering from ptomaine poisoning, where it was said it would not be known until to-night whether they would recover. William Miller of No. 24 Annals Street, Williamsburg, who had known their father, came to the two rooms and found them huddled together on a mattress, crying with pain and cold. A dog, which had shared their last meal, was dying at their feet.

Carrie Dunn, a girl of sixteen, the oldest of the five, told Miller they had eaten spoiled meat and canned beans last night. This morning she was unable to go to work in the factory of the Hecker-Jewell Milling Company with her aunt, sixty years old, who also works there and lives with them. Her aunt was ill, but insisted on going to work.

Miller called in Patrolman Cuff of the Bedford Avenue Station and an ambulance. Some of the beef and beans was taken by the Police Department and an investigation will be made. The children, besides Carrie, are Edmund, thirteen years old; Joseph, aged seven; Peter, aged five, and Susie, aged three.

WOMAN BURNED TO DEATH IN A MYSTERIOUS FIRE

Found in Room With Bed Ablaze and Lighted Oil Lamp Near Body.

Mrs. Mary Mullady, forty-seven years old, was mysteriously burned to death early today at No. 104 Hall Street, Brooklyn. Seeing smoke coming from the room, her stepdaughter Mary ran in and found the woman in the middle of the floor, her clothes burned off.

The bed was ablaze and an oil lamp was on the floor, still burning, near the body. Mrs. Sarah Dowd, an aunt of the dead woman, assisted the girl in putting out the flames with pails of water. The family occupy all of the three-story house. Mrs. Mullady went to her room, on the second floor, to retire about 10.30. It was after midnight the fire was discovered.

The police theory is her clothing caught fire from the lamp, and, setting it on the floor, she jumped into bed to wrap herself in the blankets and extinguish it. Falling, she started to run to the hall for help and fell unconscious. No one in the house heard any cries.

FRENCH MAID HIS ACCUSER.

Tearfully Says Employer Choked Her, but Court Frees Him.

A French maid in tears, who said that he had thrown her down and choked her, confronted George E. G. Maupin, a lawyer, of No. 323 Park Avenue, in Toronto, Police Court today. The maid, Madeleine Thibaut, said she had been for ten days in the service of Mrs. Maupin, who was Miss McCay and lived many years in Paris.

Maupin told the Court that when he reached home last Saturday he was informed by his wife that the maid had been insolent and that he simply took Madeleine by the shoulders and put her out of the apartment. Magistrate Koenig discharged him. Madeleine left court declaring she intended bringing suit for $5,000 against her employer.

CABARET SINGER SLAIN.

Stabbed to death with a bread knife the body of Michael Knowles, a cabaret singer, twenty-two years old, of No. 254 West Thirtieth Street, was found early today by his mother and a policeman in the backyard of a saloon kept by Peter Alfieri, at No. 256 West Twenty-eighth Street. The breakfast was found in a sideboard drawer in the back room. Mrs. Knowles was directed to the place by George Popp, a friend of her son's, who excused himself from accompanying the police party. The police are looking for Popp and for Alfieri's bartender, who was in charge after the proprietor left last night. Thomas Leoni, who was held as material witness, by fingerprinting the police identified Knowles as a man with a record, six arrests, five of them for assault and robbery.

On Christmas Morning

Betty Plays "Silent Night"

She has seen her dolls and books. She is wearing the pretty bracelet Aunt Jenny gave her. She has laid aside the little purse with new money, the gift of Uncle Ned. She is fascinated with the most wonderful thing that has come into her young life. She is playing the piano, making real MUSIC.

"Silent Night, Holy Night"—mother is thinking of a long-ago Christmas, when the Waits sang it in the early morning. There was a Scho-macker piano in the drawing-room, but she was too little to play it. And—how sweetly Betty was playing!

Who can doubt the fine influence of good music on the child? Who can afford to deny it when the cost of it is so conveniently spread over the months?

The Lindeman Player-Piano
One Model, Costs $395

There is no other player-piano in the world so good for so little a price. The piano itself is 79 years old. It is proven. The world knows it for what it is—GOOD. The player action is simple, quickly responsive and dependable. It is a gift for a life-time.

A small sum down brings it to your home at once
